NSA's Player's Code of Conduct

Have fun!

Play the game fair. Playing fair requires courage and character. It is also much more satisfying than achieving your goal unfairly or dishonestly.

Play to win. Try your best until the final whistle, but also remember that it is just a game. Winning is not everything.

Observe the Laws of the Game at all times.

Make your best effort attend all games and practices. If you can not attend a game of practice call your coach and let him or her know with as much advance notice as possible.

Develop respect for the ability of opponents, your teammates, and for the judgment of referees and opposing coaches.

Accept defeat with dignity. Nobody wins all the time.

Congratulate your opponent with good grace.

Always be prepared with the proper equipment, by bring an inflated soccer ball, shin guards and lots of water. As a responsible player this is my responsibility not my parents.

Promote the interests of soccer.
